After three days and a half of arduous labor, a jury of twelve men were finally secured to try William McKinley on the charge of murder in the first degree in connection with the lynching of Carl Etherington on the eighth of last July.

The Court, the counsel for both the state and the defendant were nearly exhausted by the tedious process of examining talismen, and it was with a feeling of relief and satisfaction when at 2:25 o'clock Friday afternoon both sides announced themselves as satisfied with the panel as it stood. The men are all from the rural districts of the county, not one being from the city of Newark, and are mostly men of families.

Both sides appeared to be pleased with the selection as finally made, each confident of victory. Juror J. O. Fisher has contracted a severe cold in the last two days, which is showing some rather serious symptoms and Judge Weygandt has instructed a physician to examine the juror and be in attendance upon him Saturday and Sunday, and it is hoped that the cold will be broken and Mr. Fisher can take up his duties Monday morning, to which time Court adjourned and the jury will be sworn and the trial will proceed.

At the opening of court Friday morning of the McKinley murder case the defense exercised its fifth peremptory challenge, which had been reserved from adjournment Thursday evening, and Mr. Felix S. Montgomery was excused, again leaving eleven men in the box.

Judge Weygandt had issued a special venire for thirty more men, and those who could be found and had reported, were sworn by Sheriff F. E. Slabaugh.

This was the third venire issued; the first the regular of 36 names, the second and third being special, issued by the court for 40 and 30 respectively, making 106 names in all. Some of the names had been excused. Mr. E. A. Avery this morning on account of sickness in the family.

The court room was again crowded to its utmost when court opened promptly at nine o'clock.

The first prospective juror called Friday morning was

F. L. Geiger, Plumber, of Hebron, examined by Mr. Smythe; Believed in capital punishment; had no opinion. Passed for cause by state.

Examined by Mr. James. Hal

NO DISORDER WILL BE TOLERATED.

Judge Weygandt stated to spectators, who at an answer, broke into laughter, that such actions would not be tolerated for a moment, and another such exhibition of hilarity when a man's life was at stake would be summarily punished by the court, and it is practically certain that the audience will need no further warning.

W.M. MCKINLEY

On Trial for First Degree Murder for Alleged Participation in Etherington Lynching.

On Friday morning Judge Weygandt just before noon, announced an important dictum from the bench. In the examination it had frequently been asked the prospective jurors if they would give the same credence to the evidence of a saloon keeper as that of a man in any other line of business, and if the fact of a man's having been engaged in that business would raise a prejudice against him, and several were challenged after having answered that it would.

Judge Weygandt said: "From what I can gather, there probably will be introduced in this trial evidence to show that defendant had been in this business, and this evidence will be considered by the jury when it goes into the room to deliberate finally upon this cause, if for no other reason, to determine a possible motive."

"Now, from the nature of questions put by counsel, a prospective juror is practically informed that such evidence will be introduced, and I shall not hereafter sustain a challenge upon the mere fact that juror answers that the fact of a man having been in the liquor business might to some extent influence his verdict as indicative of a motive."

Farmer of Hebron, examined by Mr. Smythe; Not opposed to capital punishment; heard McKinley was arrested; don't know him; probably have formed an opinion about him with the rest of them. Questioned by the court; My opinion is pretty firmly fixed; don't know whether it would influence my judgment or not, but I don't think I ought to be a juror, I am too old and don't think I could stand it. Excused.

James A. Cully.

Farmer of Hebron, examined by Mr. Smythe; Was not opposed to capital punishment; had expressed no opinion. State passed for cause. Examined by Mr. Russell. I am slightly hard of hearing, heard of Newark lynching the next day, read of it in papers and talked to others; fact of indictment would not weigh too much in my mind. ## ENGINEER MARKER OF STATE BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS WAS A VISITOR IN THE CITY TODAY

Chief Engineer James Marker of the State Board of Public Works, was a visitor in the city Friday. An advocate representative caught him at dinner at the Hotel Warden, and in answer to the scribe's greeting he replied: "Newark is a mighty fine city and it is fast coming to the front in the commercial world. I see you have President Watkins of Indianapolis with you today. Newark is sure some discoball town, and has been pretty well advertised as such over the country."

"Yes, said the perspiring reporter, but what our citizens would like to know is what the State Board going to do with our old canal bed?"

DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS NAMES CHAMP CLARK SPEAKER OF HOUSE

Nomination Made Unanimous by Congressional Caucus of Which Hay, of Virginia, Was Chairman and Ashbrook, of Ohio, Was Secretary.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Champ Clark of Missouri, chosen speaker of the next house; a ways and means committee, previously agreed upon, chosen to name the standing committees and frame tariff legislation for early action by the next congress; a list of resolutions and a host of speakers—these were the features of last night's caucus by Democratic members of the incoming house.

The caucus consisted of 276 members. Congressman H. of Virginia, was chairman and Ashbrook, of Ohio, was secretary. Only 12 members were absent. The entire proceedings were enthusiastic and harmonious.

The program arranged by the leaders was carried out almost to the letter, all members, however, being given latitude in debate.

The selection of Mr. Clark for speaker was unanimous and it is the first time in nearly a century that a Democrat has been nominated for the speakership without opposition, except in cases where a man who has been Speaker was re-elected to that office.

While Champ Clark enjoys this unique distinction, it has been a foregone conclusion for some time that he would be the unanimous choice of the caucus.

But unlike his predecessors in the office, he will not be tested as to his power, inasmuch as under the new regime he will not be authorized to appoint the committees of the House.

In accepting the honor conferred upon him, Champ Clark said: "From the bottom of my heart, I thank you for your generous endorsement for the high office of speaker of the house of representatives. I shall endeavor to discharge the duties of that great position so fairly, so justly, and so impartially that you will never have cause to regret that you have just done."

"This caucus was called for the purpose of selecting the Democratic contingent of the ways and means committee for the Fifty-second Congress in order to expedite tariff legislation by securing as speedily as possible the data on which to base a bill or bills, which we believe will promote the prosperity of the whole country and give a new impetus to every legitimate business undertaking within the

DIVORCED MAN KILLS WOMAN; AFFAIR MYSTERY

Madison, Md., Jan. 20.—Early today Herman Enson, who recently separated from his wife, shot and killed a handsome young woman who was standing on a downy green car. He then fired a bullet into his brain. The man died in a hospital to which he was rushed in a passing auto.

In the woman's pocket was found a marriage license showing that on June 5, 1910, Mattie Wheatley and Jacob H. Enson were married in Washington. The woman was a blond. She wore a black fur hat and carried white furs. She wore a wedding ring bearing the initials, "F. S. W. to C. G. T."

DEFENSE TO SUM UP SATURDAY

RAISING MAINE BEEN DELAYED

Hanover, Jan. 20.—The prediction of the war department that the Maine would be raised by Feb. 15 is not to be fulfilled. Engineering experts say she will not be up until six weeks after that day. At present three shifts of men keep the work going day and night.

MORTON'S DEATH CAUSES GRIEF IN FINANCIALS

New York, Jan. 20.—The sudden death of Paul Morton has plunged financial circles here into really sincere grief. He was regarded as a big man in the business world and although not allied with the stock manipulators of the street, was a strong power for peace among the warring financial factions.

He was also known as a conciliator of the public. His probable successor was discussed today at some length. It is agreed that the new man must be a Morgan man and it is said Morton's death will hurry Morgan's plan to mutualize the Equitable life.

Morton's funeral will be held tomorrow with interment at Woodlawn cemetery. Private services at the home in the morning will be followed by the public service in the afternoon at St. Thomas' Episcopal church.

CALLED SUDDENLY BY DEATH

Paul Morton, Former Secretary of Navy, Expires in New York Hotel

HAD RECEIVED WARNING

That Condition Was Precarious ---Illness Due to Overwork and Peculiar Habits of Eating.

New York, Jan. 20.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society and secretary of the navy under Theodore Roosevelt, died of a cerebral hemorrhage in the Hotel Seymour here last night.

His wife and his elder brother, Jay, were summoned to his side, but he was dead at 6:45 o'clock, a few minutes before they arrived, and an hour after he was stricken. His close friend, E. J. Berwind, arrived a few moments earlier, perhaps 10 minutes before he breathed his last, but he was unconscious from the moment of the stroke, and neither recognized those about him nor spoke. The coroner's office is satisfied that death resulted from natural causes and there will be no autopsy.

Mr. Morton himself had no idea that his life was in danger, but his family, his physicians and a few close friends knew that his condition was precarious and that if he did not take care of himself grave results would follow. Joy Morton, immediately after he left the room where the body lay, gave a full account of his brother's ill health and sudden death.

"Paul and I took luncheon together at noon," he said. "I had come here from Chicago and Paul met me at the station. We went to the Equitable Building together, where at Paul's request, I attended a meeting of the board of directors, at which he presided. Then we had luncheon together in the building and sat together talking until perhaps 2:30."

"I had other business and so had to see you at home at 6 or a little before," I said, and we parted. I never saw him alive again. At 5 o'clock I dropped into his office, thinking we might go on town together, but he had left before me. So I went on up to the house alone, where I met Mrs. Morton.

"She knew that Paul had promised me to be at home at 5 or before, and as it grew late she turned to me and said, 'Don't let it odd that Paul's late?' He's always so punctual." The words were hardly out of her mouth before the telephone rang and the butler brought bad news. Mrs. Morton, he said, The Hotel Seymour telephones that Mr. Morton has just fainted.

"We pursued in a jiffy. Edward J. Berwind, who was in a jiffy. Edward J. Berwind, who was in a jiffy. Edward J. Berwind, who was in a jiffy."

ENTIRE TOWN HAS THE MUMPS

Easton, Pa., Jan. 20.—When Lottie Helms sang the role in the opera Salome, Monday, with her father, who was stricken with mumps, the laughter that resulted nearly broke up the performance. She tried it again yesterday, but had to give up, she was so ill. Now the disease has been communicated to hundreds and half the town has the mumps. Most of those who attended the opera have laid up. Council meetings have been suspended and the revival meeting had to close because there was no one in town well enough to attend.

No Powder To Rub Off—Nothing to Show—only Velvety Loveliness when you use OPERA CREAM For the Complexion.

Here is what one woman says: "It certainly is delightful to have so many of my friends ask me how I get such a nice complexion, and I am writing you my experience for the benefit of other ladies who like to appear nice and care for their complexion. Nature never blessed me with much of a complexion and I never found any powders or creamy creams that helped it much. About four months ago I saw OPERA CREAM demonstrated and I decided to try it. The first time I used it I surprised myself, for he became interested right away and asked me what I had used on my face. He said it had such a lovely, velvety appearance. After that I used OPERA CREAM regularly, and it was a pleasure to see my complexion improve. Now I have a clear, soft skin that I am proud of, and will always praise Opera Cream."

Opera Cream is for sale by all druggists, 25c a bottle, or mailed upon receipt of order by The Dayton Drug Co., Dayton, Ohio.

INTERESTING DESCRIPTIVE TRAVEL TALK

Mrs. A. H. Pierson Entertained Large Audience With Sights Seen in Her Tour of the World.

A most interesting and instructive talk was given in the Sunday school room of the Second Presbyterian church Thursday evening, by Mrs. A. H. Pierson, who gave a vivid account of her experiences in the trip around the world, which she and several other Newark people took in the latter part of 1909. Her talk was illustrated by views thrown upon a canvass by a reflectoscope operated by Mr. F. C. Edmiston, who is at present the guest of his brother, Mr. T. M. Edmiston on Hudson avenue, who was a member of the globe-trotting party.

The views were illustrative of places of interest visited, home scenes of natives, observance of the elaborate rites of different religions, landscapes, street scenes, pagodas, temples and in fact everything which could go to make up a connected panorama of absorbing interest, greatly enhanced by being woven into a complete and fascinating travel story by the succinct, appropriate, and always intelligible descriptive remarks of Mrs. Pierson, who held the closest attention of the large audience for an hour and a quarter.

A collection netted a neat sum for the mission circle under whose auspices the lecture was given.

NERVOUSNESS Can Be Cured by Building Up the Blood.

This is the Tonic Treatment for Nervous Trouble Which is Meeting with Such Great Success.

Since most common nervous troubles are caused by a defect in the blood, to cure them at the root the blood defect must be corrected. So when a physician gives a medicine for the nerves he gives something that will act on the blood in such a way that the nerves will benefit. There is, therefore, no mystery about the fact that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are both a blood-builder and a nerve tonic, nothing unrecognized by science in the power of these pills to cure severe nervous disorders as well as diseases of the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a specific for anemia, or deficiency of blood. Hence they are a remedy for all nervous diseases which result from, or arise under, anemic conditions.

The success of the tonic treatment through the blood is thus described by Mrs. Charles Fenton, whose address is R. F. D. No. 1, Dayton, Ohio. She says: "I suffered from nervousness for five years, and was under the doctors' care at different times but they did not cure me. I became so nervous that I could not control my feelings and would often cry without any cause. I had dizzy spells and would fall over. My stomach was weak and I could not like a weight on it. I had severe cramps and was constipated. My back ached a great deal and there were terrible pains at the base of my head. I was short of breath on the least exertion and suffered from palpitation of the heart. My head would ache for two or three days steadily when I could not raise it from the pillow without feeling that I was raising the pillow with my head. After I had been sick for some time a rash broke out on my body."

"A druggist at Springfield, Ohio, where I was then living, told me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they soon relieved me. I kept on with them until I had taken several boxes and was cured."

For further proof of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done in severe nervous disorders send for our booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System," which is free upon request. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Restful Sleep Restored—Indigestion Cured

"Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is far superior to all else as a strengthener and health builder for the aged, weak and sickly," says Mr. D. F. Sibert, 81 years of age.

He writes: "I am always ready to render merit and justice where they belong, and will state that my experience with Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is that when taken in medicinal doses it is an excellent tonic. I am 81 years old and have suffered a great deal with indigestion and kidney trouble. These troubles were overcome by Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey. It induces sleep and creates thirst for a glass of water before breakfast. By this the system is the better supplied with oxygen. I find Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey far superior to all else, and while I am greatly opposed to taking spirits as thousands do, I will always use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, be benefited and attain a clear conscience by taking it as a medicine as prescribed." D. F. Sibert, Scotland, Archer Co., Texas.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—The Wise Man And the Camel

JACK and Evelyn had seen a camel at the circus, so daddy did not need to tell them what sort of animal it was. But they did not know until daddy told them one evening that in some countries camels are used to carry people and things.

"Once upon a time," began daddy, "there was a wise man traveling along in the desert. When he met a party of men who seemed to be searching for something. When he asked them what they sought they said:

"We have lost a camel."

"Was he blind in his right eye and lame in his left fore leg?" the wise man asked. "He was," said the men.

"Was one of his front teeth missing?" was the next question. And the answer was again, "Yes."

"The next question was, 'Was he not loaded with wheat on one side and with honey on the other?'"

"He was," said the owners of the camel.

"Well," said the wise man, "I have not seen your camel."

"That made the men very angry. They did not believe him and brought him before a judge. When the judge heard how the wise man had described the camel perfectly he believed with the owners of the camel that the wise man had seen the missing animal."

"How did you know the camel was blind in his right eye?" asked the judge.

"Because I saw that the grass was eaten on one side of the road only," said the prisoner.

"How did you know he was lame in his left fore leg?"

"Because I saw the footprints of a camel, and one was fainter than the others."

"But how did you know that the animal had lost a front tooth?"

"And the answer was, because whenever the grass had been eaten a small tuft was left untouched in the middle of the bite."

"But," said the camel's owners, "how did you know that the animal was loaded on the one side with wheat and on the other with honey?"

"That is a very easy question," answered the wise man. "I noticed that the ants were very busy on one side of the road carrying away grains of wheat, and the flies were buzzing around on the other. And now let me tell you that your camel is not far from where you found me. There were no tracks on the road either in front of or behind his tracks, so he has strayed away only a short distance from the road." And, sure enough, they found the camel near the place where they had met the wise man.

How She Keeps Her Baby Healthy—Test Free

An easy way for any mother to raise sturdy children

So far back as the memory of man goes every mother has had her own peculiar ideas about how to keep her children healthy. But women are getting to agree on the main point more and more, and that is that it is of first importance to keep the little one's bowels open.

From the bowels comes health or sickness. Unless a child is born diseased it can be kept healthy and made to grow to vigorous maturity, if the bowels are kept free and pure in infancy and childhood. It is the main point for the mother to keep the amount of rooming in the bowels of a child does keeps its bowels moving naturally, but there comes a time when they overeat or eat something that does not agree, and then a laxative is absolutely necessary.

Don't wait until matters get worse—give a laxative at once. What laxative are you going to give? Stewed fruit and prunes of that kind? No, not when the child is really constipated. Give a scientific laxative, a formula based on forty years of experience with children. Such a laxative is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of mothers are already using in these emergencies. It is the favorite of the children of Mrs. J. B. W. R. Caldwell, 34 Caldwell building, Whiting of Lena, Wis., Mrs. Chas. H. Reichert, Richmond Hill, L. I., and numerous others.

Don't give pills, tablets or strong cathartics for the child doesn't need it. Go to your druggist and buy a fifty-cent one dollar bottle of Syrup Pepsin. It is mild, gentle, free from griping and exactly suited to the needs of infants and children. If you want to try it before buying write Dr. Caldwell and he will send you a free sample bottle. He has sent thousands such bottles to mothers.

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has specialized in stomach, liver and bowel diseases for over forty years and will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. Caldwell, 34 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

The funeral of R. V. Streeter, one of Croton's most highly respected citizens, was held on Thursday and was largely attended. Mr. Streeter's death was caused by a complication of diseases. In the passing of Mr. Streeter Croton loses a stalwart Christian character, one who stood for everything that was good and pure and was ever found on the side of right. The deceased was a man who never spoke ill of another nor allowed it to be done in his presence without protest. He always saw the good in every one and was anxious to overlook the evil.

The remains were brought here Thursday and the funeral services were held in the Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon. The deceased is survived by his wife and one daughter, who live in Cleveland. Among those who attended the old academy where Mr. Clemens taught, and who are now living are George Case, J. Boaz Jones, John Messinger, Sidney Nichols, Walter Thompson, David R. Owens, Russell Moore and D. E. W. Jones.

Regular services will be held at the St. Luke's Episcopal church on Sunday, conducted by the rector, Rev. A. Ramsey. Services at 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. Sunday school at 11 a. m.; morning sermon, "The Divinity and Humanity of Christ," at 10 a. m. "Satanism," at 4 p. m. "Satanism," at 4 p. m.

Regarding the visit of the Rev. C. J. Rose of this place to Youngstown, O., the Journal and Messenger says: "Rev. C. J. Rose, of Granville, visited the association, preaching in Girard, Sunday morning and to the Hazleton church in the evening. In the afternoon he paid a visit to the Slavak mission in East Youngstown, and also countered with the missionary committee. All were delighted to have a visit from the genial and busy secretary. He helped us, and as he left we followed him with our sincere prayer that God would grant him traveling mercies and continue to bless abundantly his labors in the interest of our churches and the cause throughout the state.

The production of Shakespeare's "The Comedy of Errors" by the members of the Calliopean Literary Society of Denison University, at the Town Hall on Thursday night, was one of the finest little plays ever produced by any of the literary societies of the college. There was a large attendance and the play was thoroughly enjoyed. All those taking part in the rendition of the play showed evidence of the careful training they had received, and the affair was a complete and gratifying success in every particular.

Mrs. David Beveridge, of St. Ignace, Mich., who has been here for the past month, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ferguson, left for her home Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Franks of near New Albany, O., who have been visiting friends in Granville and vicinity during the past week, returned home Thursday.

Plans are already being formulated for the annual Denison Darky entertainment, which is to be given soon. The following committee has been appointed to arrange for the show, which will be given under the auspices of the Athletic association. Messrs. W. D. Miller, F. C. Kent, G. D. Upson, W. D. Hoffman, C. A. Poe, D. E. Reese and R. G. Elvin, chairman.

Miss Della Smith of Urbana, is visiting friends in the village for a few days.

At the annual business meeting of the Fortnightly club of this place, which was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Robinson this week, the following officers of the club were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Marguerite Jones; vice president, Miss Amelia Owen; recording secretary, Mrs. E. E. Wright; treasurer, Mrs. G. E. Jones; critic, Mrs. Hines; librarian, Miss Bancroft. After the regular business of the club had been transacted all adjourned to the dining room where a social hour seasoned with refreshments, was spent. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Warner J. Pond, on Tuesday, January 21.

Mr. Henry Roberts and daughter, Mrs. Bixler of Creston, Iowa, who were called to Muskingum county by the death of Mr. Roberts' mother, upon their return trip stopped over in Granville and made a short visit with Mrs. James McCune at her home on South Pearl street.

Miss Vivian Kingley, a charming young woman of Pomeroy, O., who has been visiting relatives and friends here for a few days, returned home, Thursday.

M. M. King, the popular jeweler of this place, who underwent an operation a short time ago at the Mt. Carmel hospital in Columbus, is reported as rapidly recovering and the indications are that he will soon be able to come home.

Squire and Mrs. E. J. Dorsey are making their arrangements to leave on Tuesday of next week for Whittier, Calif., where they will make an extended visit with their son, William and family. Mr. Warren J. Pond will look after the Squire's business during his absence.

Next Sunday evening at the London street school house, services will be held with Mr. John Bieleke of Wellston, Ohio, a student at Denison University, as the speaker. Until the organ is provided, the music is being aided by a small orchestra of three or four pieces. A large attendance is desired.

Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Carman of Marietta, returned today to their home after a several days' visit at Granville, their former home. Dr. Carman was present at the Phi Beta Kappa installation exercises as a charter member, having been elected to the fraternity while at his college Alma Mater, the University of Rochester.

WHEN THE STOMACH STOPS

Working Properly. Because There Is Wind In It. Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to Set It Going Again.

A Trial Package Free.

The doctors call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it as "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing state of things it is. It is a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with wind, cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has a train too appalling to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in this trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

All this is explained in doctor books: how undigested food causes gases by fermentation and fermentation in which process some essential fluids are destroyed—burnt up—wasted by chemical action, followed by defective nutrition and the distribution through the alimentary tract of chemically wrong elements and as a consequence the stomach and entire system is starved. Plenty of food, you see, but spoilt in preparation and worse than worthless.

A deranged stomach is the epitome of evil; nothing too bad to emanate from it, but the gas it generates is probably its worst primary effect and the only way to do away with this is to remove the cause. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go to the root of this trouble. They attack the gas-making foods and render them harmless. Flatulency or wind on the stomach simply cannot exist where these powerful and wonder-working little tablets are in evidence.

They were made for this very purpose to attack gas making foods and convert them into proper nutriment. This is their province and office. A whole book could be written about them and then not all told that might be told with profit to sufferers from this painful disease, dyspepsia. It would mention the years of patient and expensive experiment in effort to arrive at this result—of failures innumerable and at last success. It would make mention of the different stomach correctives that enter into this tablet and make it faithfully represent all.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not alone intended for the sick, but well folks as well; for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run no risk of bad effects, they act like a charm and make eating and digestion a delight and pleasure. They keep the stomach active and energetic and able and willing to do extra work without special labor or effort. Don't forget this. Well people are often neglected, but the Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have them in mind.

A free trial package will be sent any one who wants to know just what they are, how they look and taste, before beginning treatment with them. After this go to the drug store for them; everywhere, here or at home, they are 50 cents a box and by getting them at home you will save time and postage. Your doctor will prescribe them; they say there are 40,000 doctors using them, but when you know what is the matter with yourself, why go to the expense of a prescription? For free trial package address F. A. Stuart, Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Michigan.

MRS. ALBERSON MOTHER OF EDITOR COSHOCTON TIMES

The Ashland (O.) Times-Gazette of Monday evening contains a most fitting tribute to a noble woman, Mrs. Susan C. Albers, mother of William T. Albers, editor of the Times, whose death occurred Monday morning shortly after her son reached her bedside. The Ashland paper says: Many friends will learn with the deepest regret of the death of Mrs. Susan C. Albers, which occurred Monday morning at 9:40 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. U. S. Shelly, with whom she resided and by whom she was tenderly cared for. Funeral services will probably occur Wednesday, but the hour has not yet been fixed and will not be until her son Amos and brothers are heard from.

Mrs. Susan C. Albers, whose maiden name was Bowlby, was born in Orange township, December 1, 1837, and died January 16, 1911, aged 73 years, 1 month and 15 days. In 1854 she was married to the late Judge James Albers and to them were born two children, Mrs. U. S. Shelly, with whom Mrs. Albers spent the latter years of her life, and J. Kelsy Albers, who died in June, 1901. She was a devoted mother also to two children of Mr. Albers by a former marriage, William T. of Coshocton, and Amos N. of Washington, Iowa. She is survived by two brothers, Captain I. S. Bowlby of Canyon City, Colo., and John H. Bowlby of Wellington.

Mrs. Albers' illness began two weeks ago in a nervous collapse. She seemed to rally slightly from it, but a severe cold set in later, which her weakened system could not withstand and she passed quietly away at the hour mentioned.

In every relation in life Mrs. Albers nobly filled her part. Quiet, earnest, devoted to home and family, a firm friend and kind neighbor she filled a large place in social life of the community and work of the church so long as strength permitted. She was a faithful member of the Congregational church and a helper in every good work, and home, church and community will greatly miss the noble Christian woman, whose life brightened and whose hand helped all that came within the circle of her influence.

IF WE ONLY COULD TELL YOU

How very cheap and shoddy the so-called "Thump-Box" is, you would never buy one or let a friend do so. Case painted, imitation keys, unseasoned wood, hard, unresponsive action, and such a ragtime tone. Buy such a so-called piano and you surely wreck your child's musical career.

Now different it is if you buy a beautiful Smith & Nixon or Rawlings piano, direct from the manufacturer. See A. L. Rawlings, at No. 4 North Park Place, Newark, O., the only manufacturer living in your home city, which all Newark people should patronize when everything is equal.

We carry the largest stock of pianos in Central Ohio. We also have a few slightly used pianos at bargains. It will pay you to see them. It is better to buy a first class used piano at $150 than to pay $150 for a cheap box. At any rate, come and see for yourself and be convinced that I am right.

Dupler's Meat Market Headquarters For Fresh Ground Bone

More Eggs Is What You Want And You Want Them Most When The Price is The Highest It's Easy to Keep Your Hens Laying the Year Round

WORMS, BUGS AND INSECTS form the essential chemical elements that Eggs are composed of. The hen gets some of this animal life during the summer time, and consequently she is a better egg producer during that season. With the coming of cold weather and the destruction of insect life, the egg supply falls off, and you have noticed in the severest weather, the hen quits laying entirely. THERE IS JUST ONE REASON FOR THIS. She is not getting the materials essential for the formation of the Egg. It has been scientifically demonstrated that FRESH GREEN BONE, properly ground, with adhering pieces of meat and gristle, contains, in almost the exact proportions, the very food elements needed in place of worms and bugs the hen cannot find in winter, and in many places cannot get to in the summer. If she got worm and bugs all the time, the egg supply would not fall off at any time. If you feed the FRESH GROUND BONE, which is just as good, she will be kept in prime condition and continue to lay as long as she is getting this food. Every poultry raiser that knows his business feeds ground bone, and gets big returns from the small investment. They also say that young chickens that are fed fresh ground bone thrive better and mature quicker. Just try this out and see how soon the pennies you spend for ground bone are turned into DOLLARS.

We have installed a HOBART ELECTRIC BONE GRINDER, and will make a specialty of furnishing our customers with this valuable egg producer at a very small cost. We urge you to try a small lot and see the increase in your egg supply. Then it will pay you to arrange for a regular weekly supply, so that you will not be disappointed.

COMEDY HIT, "SEVEN DAYS."

"Seven Days" is all fun. It is so funny to be told but it is vastly funny to behold! There, direct and to the point, is the New York Journal's description of the comedy by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood that is coming to the Auditorium theatre Jan. 21, matinee and night. Funny! Why "Seven Days" is a scream from the first minute the curtain goes up until it falls on the last act, and the audience goes out of the theatre laughing and laughs for many a day afterward at the thought of the fun in the play. The wit and sparkle and buoyancy of the comedy get into the system and keep breaking out in bursts of laughter. One recalls something said or done in "Seven Days" and is convulsed with merriment. You start to tell it to somebody and away you go into roaring hysteria. This is not an exaggeration either. "Seven Days" is the funniest play in a score of years. Everybody says so critics and public alike. It must be away ahead of other comedies or it couldn't have run into its second year in New York and stayed six months in Chicago. That record speaks for itself. "Seven Days" ran straight through last summer at the Astor theatre, Broadway, and it is the only comedy that has ever done so. Maers, Wagonairs & Kempner are showing this play here with a talented New York company and a generous producer. These managers are noted not for the quality of their plays and the manner in which they stage them. Therefore "Seven Days" promises a laughing treat of the first order in many seasons.

THE ORPHEUM.

Inimitable Grade Emmett and capital company of three persons dominate the interesting vaudevil bill offered at the popular Arva theatre this week. In a come band," Miss Emmett finds an i tremely congenial role--that of an i porturbable Celtic matron of mea whose rosy freshness belies the e istence of a grown up daughter.

Mrs. Murphy brings home a seco husband, her junior by many year who is apparently in the final stag of dyspepsia, to the infinite disg of the aforementioned daughter a her husband. The comedy elem is worked by easy stages into del

comedy hits of the season. Carr

Challenged by defense for cause. The challenge was overruled, the juror accepted and before he was in the box was challenged peremptorily by the defense and excused, after the state had expressed satisfaction with the jury as it stood.

"TO THEM THAT HATH"

A Short Sermon to Pat Folks.

"To them that hath shall be given" is a sentence that applies to lot people very heavily. It is common knowledge that once a human being begins to fasten up, to what they have already added more than they want until finally a stage is reached where reduction must be made or decided disadvantage results.

Then comes forward the ages-old query, "Reduce—but how?" To the uninformed nothing suggests itself but the (to them) two evils—less eating and more activity. They contemplate a more or less lengthy siege of dieting and exercising. So it may be said safely that every man or woman in the land now undergoing the fattening-up process has his or her mental eye fixed dubiously on that not far distant day when he or she will have to don the "ashes and sackcloth of reduction."

This is not an enervating prospect, and so it is with considerable satisfaction that we announce the emancipation of the fat. Nowadays one may reduce much or little, a pound a day if desired, hold their fat in check, absolutely stationary, without doing a rap, not exercise, missing a single meal, doing a particle of harm or causing a solitary wrinkle. All that's required, as hundreds testify, is taking after meals and at bedtime of one Marmola Prescription Tablet, which tablets are sold by the Marmola Co., 551 Farmer Bldg., Detroit, Mich., or any good druggist.

At the uniform price of 75 cents, the sum being accepted for a case of tablets so well and generously filled that even one produces desirable results.

capital punishment; had formed no opinion. Passed by state for cause.

Examined by Mr. Russell: Read about trouble in Newark last July; think I read list of names of those indicted; did not sign dry petition nor contribute to dry fund; no prejudice against saloon keepers. Passed for cause and accepted.

THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

Thursday afternoon about three o'clock, just before a recess was taken, B. F. Rush was accepted.

Mr. Rush had been challenged for cause by defense, but the challenge was overruled. He did not contribute to the dry campaign, but had signed the dry petition. He had no prejudice against a saloon keeper. Mr. Rush was accepted.

The state was asked if it wished to Mr. Rush had been challenged for this point, and Mr. Miller asked permission to inquire of Mr. Fowler, who was passed in the morning, as to the state of his health. Mr. Fowler said that he was afraid that he could not stand it to sit on a trial for two weeks or more on account of kidney trouble, which sometimes became acute. The matter was left to the discretion of the court and Mr. Fowler was excused.

A recess of five minutes was taken at this point.

J. W. Reid, Produce dealer of St. Louisville, examined by Mr. Smythe: Formed no opinion about McKinley in particular; only know him when I see him; am opposed to capital punishment to a certain extent; could not render a verdict carrying death penalty. Challenged by state for cause and excused.

W. R. Bell, Farmer of Newton township, examined by Mr. Smythe: Had formed opinion from reading papers; not opposed to capital punishment. Passed for cause.

Examined for defense by James: Heard of disturbance in Newark on July 8th last; read newspaper accounts about Watha trial but not thoroughly; don't remember McKinley's name among those indicted; it would require evidence to remove my opinion; had nothing to do with local option campaign; would not give saloon keeper's testimony as much weight as another man's.

Challenged by defense for cause. State objected to challenge and juror was questioned by the court: Could lay aside any prejudice and sit as impartial juror, yet if he was a saloon keeper it might influence me a little. Challenge sustained; juror excused.

J. A. Lewis, Farmer and stock grower of Newton township, examined by Mr. Miller: Had formed or expressed no opinion; don't remember of hearing of riot and lynching on July 8th last; noticed headlines and that was all; then passed to better news; don't allow such things to riot my mind; object to capital punishment and would not render verdict with death penalty attached.

Levi Lynn, Farmer of Newton township, examined by Mr. Miller: Had an opinion about McKinley; not opposed to capital punishment. Passed by state for cause.

Examined by Mr. Russell: Heard of lynching the day after; read accounts in paper; don't remember seeing any list of indictments; took no part in local option election; did not sign dry petition; no prejudice against saloon keeper. Defense passed the juror for cause and he took his seat in the jury box.

State exercised its second peremptory challenge and Clarence C. Brown was excused.

James B. Hughes, Farmer of Mary Ann township, examined by Mr. Miller: Had formed no opinion; don't believe in capital punishment. Excused.

Ohio F. Miller, Blacksmith of Mary Ann township, examined by Mr. Miller: Had expressed no opinion; don't believe in capital punishment. Excused.

It was suggested by Judge Weygant that the state put the question to jurors as to their belief in or opposition to capital punishment first, in order to save time, which was thereafter done.

George A. Wilson, Of Mary Ann township, a marketman, was examined by Mr. Miller. He was opposed to capital punishment and was excused.

Theodore Parker, Farmer of Mary Ann township, examined by Mr. Miller: No scruples against death penalty; had no opinion; passed by state for cause.

Examined by Mr. James: Heard of trouble in Newark last July 8th the day after its occurrence; read list of indictments, but don't remember the names; read reports of Watha case; had nothing to do with local option campaign; no prejudice against a saloon keeper; would give him same consideration as a preacher. Passed by defense for cause. Accepted.

Mr. James asked permission to ask one of the jurors in the panel, Mr. F. S. Montgomery, a few questions, which was granted.

"Do you know Charles Livingston?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you ever say to him that all men engaged in this affair of July 8 ought to go to the penitentiary and that a man named Bolton ought to go to the electric chair?"

"I don't remember ever making such a remark to anybody."

"Well, you ought to know if you did, and I will ask again if it is true that you made such a remark?"

"I don't remember it. I may have said that all who were engaged in the riot should be punished, but made no stronger remark at any time to anybody."

At this point the special venire was exhausted, as far as they could be gotten into court, and Mr. James said he wished to wait until Friday morning before exercising his fifth peremptory challenge, and court was adjourned until 9 o'clock Friday morning.

PAUL MORTON

wind was there before us. They had telephoned to the Metropolitan club, to Paul's office and to other friends.

"He was on the fifth floor, where he had an appointment with a lawyer whose name I'm not sure of. They told us that he had fainted in the hallway on his way to his friend's room and they carried him into a vacant apartment."

"Now let me tell you a little about my brother's health. About December 1 last the Equitable got out what it calls a Christmas policy, and when everything was in readiness it was suggested that it would be fitting to make out the first policy in the name of the president. Paul was examined and Dr. Wells, the chief examiner for the company, rejected him."

"Of course it was a shock, but Paul never dreamed how serious was his case. It alarmed the family, however, and we had him come on to Chicago to be examined by Dr. Frank Billings. That, I think, was about December 5. Paul laughed at us. 'They're only trying to scare me,' I remember he said."

"Of course, Dr. Billings did not tell Paul what he found, but he did tell me. 'Your brother's blood pressure is too high,' he said. 'He has auto-intoxication.' And then he explained that auto-intoxication is a condition in which the body does not rid itself of the toxins it secretes, and so poisons itself. In addition, he diagnosed cerebral thrombosis. My father died of precisely similar conditions on April 27, 1902."

"Then I came on to New York to find out what they thought there. Dr. Isaac Adler, the family physician, told me that Paul was suffering from a kidney and arterial condition, indicating Bright's disease. Dr. Wells told me that he had rejected Paul because his tests showed traces of albumen. 'Your brother,' he said, 'is feeling the effects of what we call an unbalanced ration.'"

"If I tell you a little about Paul's habits that phrase will explain itself. He was a very temperate man. He ate sparingly, drank and smoked not at all. For breakfast he would eat sometimes a grape fruit, nothing more. For luncheon he would sometimes eat a sliced orange and a slice of sweet. You see his diet was unbalanced and his blood lacked some of the elements of strength a man that did his work needed. Dr. Wells told me that he would have to take the greatest care of himself and that he ought to cut down on work."

"It was his first illness and he refused to call himself sick, but we persuaded him to take a vacation as a theoretical invalid. He would have sailed for Europe on February 22."

"Gentlemen—here the narrative, told with spirit, eagerness and a wealth of detail, ended suddenly. Joy Morton had done all he could to tell frankly of his brother's closing hours, and when his task was ended the tears suddenly welled into his eyes and he could not find words. 'This is tragic,' he ended abruptly. 'He was my youngest brother—the last of us. Treat him kindly, gentlemen.'"

In the anteroom of the Hotel Seymour, while Mr. Morton was talking, stood Thomas Fortune Ryan, E. J. Berwind and Theodore Shonts, all of whom had been summoned by telephone. Mr. and Mrs. J. Hopkins Smith, Jr., a daughter and son-in-law, had Tonsilline The terms which came Quinsy reach the deeper seated tissues by absorption through the tonsils, causing the horribly painful inflammation which results in suppuration. Up until a year ago I had had ten attacks of Quinsy, but have been able to avoid it twice since that time by the use of a 25 cent bottle of your remedy. joined Mrs. Morton upstairs. Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon said that from the antecedent history and the symptoms there was no doubt in his mind that death was due to arterial sclerosis, a hardening of the walls of the arteries, terminating in a cerebral lesion. He thought that bright's disease was indicated, but there would be no autopsy. A permit for the removal of the body to Mr. Morton's house was granted almost immediately.

TARGET OF SEVERE CRITICISM. Washington, Jan. 20.—Paul Morton, president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, who died last night in New York, was secretary of the navy in President Roosevelt's cabinet, serving from July 1, 1901, until July 1, 1905. At the time he was offered the cabinet position Mr. Morton was vice president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, and in accepting the portfolio at a salary of $2,000 he sacrificed a munificent income.

Mr. Morton was selected by President Roosevelt as a member of his cabinet with a double purpose. First, he wished to recognize geographical claims of the middle West to recognition in the important body. In the second place, he found a navy department suffering from a species of dry rot, incident to the administration of its affairs by a man of purely legal training.

Mr. Morton was essentially a business man, used to handling the affairs of great corporations. Coming directly into the navy department from a position of great importance in the control of the Santa Fe system, he apparently was well equipped to carry out the president's desire to place the navy department on a business basis and cut out much of the red tape that had paralyzed the progress of the navy.

Mr. Morton's railroad affiliation became a source of great embarrassment to himself and President Roosevelt, and beyond doubt savage criticism directed against him on that score was reported to have had much to do with his early return to civil life.

At the outset Secretary Morton found himself restrained at every turn by a mass of antique statutes and laws that prevented him from accomplishing the results he had in mind. His corporation experience had led him to direct methods in instituting changes in the established order of things, where these seemed desirable, and he could not submit to the curbs of the statutes and ancient legal regulations whenever he sought to execute some of the plans he had conceived for the simplification of the business of the navy department.

That fact and the various criticisms based upon his connection with the Santa Fe system, when that corporation was declared to have violated the Sherman law by granting rebates to preferred shippers, influenced Mr. Morton to return to his old connections, and he was consequently ready to lend a willing ear to the overtures of the influences in New York which controlled the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, and he resigned to become the president of that institution after a year's service in the cabinet.

Unlike his father, J. Sterling Morton, who was secretary of agriculture under President Cleveland from 1893 to 1897, Paul Morton, during his administration, declined to participate in purely political affairs. He shunned it, giving all his time to the affairs of the navy, and it has been said that he summed up the problems of the navy in these words: "Construction, instruction and destruction." He was a believer in the biggest ships with the strongest armament.

While in Washington Mr. Morton entertained freely. He was a great advocate of walking as a physical exercise and long walks about the capital and its environs he greatly enjoyed.

BEGAN AS A RAILROAD CLERK. Omaha, Neb., Jan. 20.—Paul Morton was born in Detroit, May 22, 1857. Most of his early life was spent at Arbor Lodge, Nebraska City, the home of his father, J. Sterling Morton, secretary of agriculture under President Cleveland.

In 1872 Mr. Morton entered the Omaha office of the Burlington and Missouri River Railroad in Omaha as a clerk in the land office. His rise in the railroad world was rapid and when he left the Burlington in 1890 he held the position of general freight and passenger agent of the system.

After six years' connection with the Colorado Fuel and Iron company and its subsidiary corporations, he became vice president of the Santa Fe railroad, which position he held until 1904, when he was appointed secretary of the navy by President Roosevelt. He was made president of the Equitable Life Assurance Society in 1905, and has held that position since.

Mr. Morton married Charlotte Goodridge of Chicago in 1880.

by the women in the lunch room. The hearing was set by the mayor for 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Police Have Cause.

Rex Van Winkle, a young farmer living near Henpeck, this county, came to the city Thursday and became quite loud on the streets, using language that was calculated to jar the nerves of any one hearing it. In fact, so bad was the language used that Captain Swank and Chief Hindel concluded to pick him up. They started for the young man, but he bolted for the young man, but he bolted in up Church street, with the officers in pursuit. He ran up the Franklin alley and cut through several yards. The officers finally succeeded in catching him on the Baker lot on North Fifth street. In the police court Friday morning the mayor fined him $25 and costs and in default of payment he was sent back.
